HIGHWAY BEAUTIFICATION STARTED-The Hamlin Garden Club is encouraging Hamlin residents to join in its Hamlin Beautification project which was given a boost this week when members cleaned the triangular plot at Northeast Third Street and East Lake Drive. Members are shown cleaning the lot Monday.

Other organizations are assisting in the improvement of the site and plans are to curb the plot. The club will plant shrubs and flowers and take care of maintenance. The club hopes that other organizations and individuals will join in to improve the city's appearance.

NEWS AND VIEWS. . . And What Have You By BOB CRAIG

I had a chance to try out this new 55 miles per hour speed limit coming back from Fort Stockton this past weekend and I don't really believe it is going to be as bad as most of us thought. But the first thing you have to do is stop trying to figure out just how much longer it is taking you to get somewhere. After you have driven a few miles at 55 and other cars are not zooming by you then you really can not tell that much difference. Now, there is no point kidding ourselves, it is going to take longer to get where you have to go. But most of us would probably never be satisfied with anything less than instant transportation anyway. I don't know of many people who like to get in a car and drive all day. We would all much prefer to just push a button and arrive at our destination instantly.

In case you are interested this is the fifth time statewide maximum speed limits have been changed since the Texas Highway Department was established in 1917. In that year, the maximum permissible speed was a blazing 25 m.p.h. The speed limit went to 35 in 1923, to 45 in 1928, to 60 in 1941 and to 70 in 1963.

Orlin Brewer, writing in his column "Town Crier" in the Vernon Daily Record, has come up with a story that will really bug you when you are wondering if you are going to have enough gasoline to get to all of the places you need to be. Parts of his column follow:

If you happened to be at Torrance, Calif., with that late model automobile you're driving, you could drive to a small machine shop frequented by race car drivers and have all your current smog devices removed and a simple $50 carburetor installed.

As you drove away, you would have a car that meets the 1975 auto emission standards-you wouldn't be producing any smog at all. And in addition, you'd double if not triple the miles per gallon you get from a gallon of gasoline.

The only problem is that the carburetor is illegal in California, and it probably also wouldn't pass inspection in Texas when you get your safety sticker. There is nothing wrong with the device. It is not dangerous. It is

FROM THE FILES . . .

FIFTY YEARS AGO (January 18, 1924)

The Jones County Farm Bureau met in regular session in Hamlin vesterday. The attendance was good and all parts of the county were represented. The meeting was full of pep and the discussions were lively. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. F. Patterson, Hawley, president; W. C. Church, Merkel, vice president; Clyde Daniel, secretary. County Directors elected were: Precinct 1-J. W. Jenkins; R. H. Gifford, Lueders; R. D. Lumpass, Hawley; and R. A. Reagan, Merkel. Rev. Hugo B. Hatterias, Avoca and O. J. Stitt, Hamlin, will be attending the State meeting in Anson, Friday, Jan. 21, to hear a financial report of the secretary.

Two good road elections were ordered for portions of Jones County, Monday by the Commissioners Court. The first election ordered is the Petition of Anson vicinity for a road east and west through the county on a designated highway and the bond issue called for is $200,000. The other election was result of a petition from the north part of the county calling for the improvement of approximately 150 miles of roads. The amount asked for in the election is $600,000.

TWENTY YEARS AGO (January 22, 1954)

After several days of browning as a result of the freezes that visited the Hamlin area wheat and oat fields, the young grains have greened anew this week to further bolster the hopes of grain men for a good crop this year. Most of the grain of the section, which got off to a good start in the fall after early fall rains, had been on the ailing list for several weeks due to a lack of winter moisture.

With nine of the 12 churches of Hamlin participating in the new feature of The Herald giving attendances at Sunday Schools, the week's tabulations reflect increased attendance over that of a year ago. Despite the coldest weather of the year last Sunday, 859 braved the elements to attend the various Sunday schools. This was only a drop of 23 from the previous Sunday.

Installation of new dual parking meters and parallel parking systems along South Central Avenue from Lake Drive south to the Santa Fe Railway in the Hamlin business section is well underway this week.

Members of the Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association have agreed to sponsor the Mother's March of Dimes porch light campaign of the annual fund drive this year. This portion of the 1954 campaign will be climaxed on Jan. 29 when solicitors will make houseto-house calls to collect donations at homes on which porch lights are burning.

TEN YEARS AGO (January 23, 1964)

Seven grand champions and seven reserve champion honors were earned by Hamlin boys in the Jones County Livestock Show held in

Anson Saturday. The Hamlin High School Stage Band has been invited to play as official stage band for the March of Dimes telerama on KPAR-TV this Saturday. The band played earlier this year for the amateur shows in Abilene. A flute and two French horns have been added to the band recently.

Jones County Commissioners Court voted last week to accept bids on a billing machine for use in the Tax Collectors office. Bids on the equipment will be opened by the court on Jan. 31.

The Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church will participate in the District Festival to be held in the Southside Baptist Church in Abilene, Sunday at 2:30 p.m. The choir members and eight to 10 adults also plan to go to Waco March 13-14 for the State Clinic to be held on the Baylor University Campus.

And What Have You

admitted by the only nine laboratories in the nation which test for smog that it is totally effective. And it is a lot cheaper than the hangon devices currently peddled by the auto industry and required by law.

The carburetor came to national attention when a University of California student of Davis, Calif., entered a national contest among engineering students to develop a smog-free car. The student, a racing bug, traveled to Torrance and had what is called the "Kendig Variable Venturi Carburetor" installed on his car, according to news stories mailed this column from California.

His ancient full-size Mercury won top honors in the national event for being the closest to a smog-free car. Not only that, the student found he'd not only met the 1975 standards, but he'd also increased his mileagefrom 12 miles per gallon to 30 miles per gallon.

However, after winning the contest, he had to remove the carburetor and reinstall his old gaseating carburetor and smog devices because California law requires specific smog devices, and if you don't have them you'll get busted, even if you're not polluting.

The carburetor, invented by Willard Z. Kendig, is a simple device.

It delivers a precise amount of fuel to the engine, he says, has automatic compensation for altitude and eliminates the need for a choke, acclerator pump, multiple circuits, needle valves and jets. And it never stalls, achieving constant acceleration from idle to full throttle without hesitation.

The company won't sell the device to ordinary citizens since it is against the law in California.

But more importantly, Company President Haig Marshlian, believes that his device is being "closed out" by what he calls the big four automobile manufacturers, which he suggests want to zap the public for $300 to $1500 for their proposed systems.

Meanwhile boxes and crates of the Kendig carburetors stand against the wall in Torrance, Calif., waiting to solve your smog and gasoline mileage problems.

In the meantime, we're talking about gasoline rationing on a nationwide basis. We are also driving 55 miles per hour to save less gasoline than the Kendig carburetor would save.

The Carpenter's FRIEND

To build ... one must have plans, and plans give exact measurements. The carpenter who makes careful measurements finds that the work is made easier. Careful measuring prevents waste . . . waste of time and materials. Therefore the measuring device is truly a friend to the carpenter.

The church wants to be your friend, and help you to a easier and better way of life. The Bible clearly gives us a way to measure life. Through many centuries man has found no better rules than those given in the Bible.

Attend church and receive the friendly welcome that awaits you.

Dear editor:

According to a nationwide survey I read about in a newspaper last night, "people generally aren't satisfied with the way newspapers are run." They said papers sometimes slant the news, are sometimes inaccurate, irresponsible and biased.

I don't know who was interviewed in this survey or what papers they were talking about, if they'd be willing to sign their names, if their daughter's wedding was left out, or what, but my theory is that you show me a newspaper nobody criticizes and I'll show you a newspaper nobody reads.

I've always thought that criticizing a newspaper was half the fun of subscribing, like buying a ticket to a football game is a license to lambast the coach if he loses. No where in the Constitution does it say you can't laugh at a Congressman just because you voted for him.

Sure, most newspaper editors are biased, biased in favor of their own community, and sometimes they leave out the truth, which is better than having to leave town. Most people want the truth published about others, not themselves.

But I got to thinking about that survey. If the people who conducted it have any money left over they ought to broaden their inquiry. For example, how many people are dissatisfied with the way their church is run, their grocery store, their bank. their city government, their radio or television stations, their schools, their universities? Why they might even find out some people are dissatisfied with the way surveys are run.

But they shouldn't go too far. For example, I don't want them conducting a survey to find out how many people like my letters to The Herald every week, and if they go ahead and do it anyway I hope you'll avoid the risk of slanting the news and refuse to print it.

Recently we paid more than 85 cents for major new supplies. And the price is still rising.

Costs like these are the price Lone Star must pay for your continuing natural gas supplies. It's important that you understand our need for adequate rates so we can continue to deliver clean gas energy to your home for winters to come.

Warming Up With Several Races

One of the hottest political years in some time is shaping up in Jones County this year with at least three contested races. Filing deadline is Feb.

Three candidates have filed for county judge, two for county clerk and two for district clerk.

Incumbent Leon Thurman, who has held the office of county judge for three terms, announced this past week. Dave Reves, who served the county as sheriff for a number of years, announced the week before.

Roy Lane, an Anson motel operator, was the first to file for that office.

Roy Thorn, the present county clerk, is being opposed by Don Rose of Stamford.

Political Activity In Jones County

W. L. (Poochey) Mc-Donald, the district clerk, is being contested by Mrs. Glyn Lovvorn of Stamford.

The race for the senate seat in District 30, which is being vacated by Jack Hightower, is being sought by Charles Finnell of Holiday and Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls, This past week, Mary Virginia Kirchhoff of Plainview announced for the place. She is a Republican candidate.

Jones County Commissioners handled a large amount of first of the year business, including granting of salary increases, in their meeting last Monday.

All elected officials will receive a 5 percent pay hike, while the increase for most employees will go up 10 percent. The chief deputy sheriff's new pay will be $550 a month while that of the other deputies will become $500. This is about a 13 per-

With the increase, salary of most elected officials will become $735 a month. A tax collector receives $20 additional a month for handling automobile licenses, and the county judge is paid an additional sum for also serving as juvenile judge.

Pay for jurors in criminal cases will remain at $5 per day. For those called on special venires, the pay will be $5 if they serve but only $4 if they just report.

One of the first actions of the court was to vote to pay officials under the salary plan and not the fee system. This action must be taken every year.

Commissioners also voted to go on daylight saving time but for the next two or three months, to open the court house at 8:30 o'clock in the morning rather than the customary 8.

Members of the county grievance committee, the group which is set up by law to hear complaints of county employees, also was named. This is another statutory requirement. Judge Leon Thurman said thus far the committee has never met. The judge serves as chair-

Members of the committee are selected from the list of those who served on the grand jury the previous year. Named for this year were Mrs. Luther Larson of the Ericksdahl community; Mrs. Carles Boyd of Anson and C. J. Dillon of Route 6, Abilene, the Fort Phantom Hill Lake

The county will advertise for bids for liability insurance and will also seek bids for a loader for one of the commissioners.

Roy Thorn Announces As Candidate

Roy Thorn, candidate for County Clerk of Jones County, has authorized the Herald to issue the following formal statement of his candidacy:

"It has been my privilege to serve the people of Jones County for several years as your County Clerk; I have thoroughly enjoyed serving in this capacity. I would like to continue to serve you for another term.

"I feel the experience I and my associates have gained working in this office will enable us to continue the efficient and courteous service we have always sought to give.

"I shall see as many of you personally as time will permit. If I do not see you, please accept this as a personal soliciation of your vote. Your support has been and will be appreciated deeply."

NEWS AND VIEWS. . . And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

I had a chance to try out this new 55 miles per hour speed limit coming back from Fort Stockton this past weekend and I don't really believe it is going to be as bad as most of us

But the first thing you have to do is stop trying to figure out just how much longer it is taking you to get somewhere. After you have driven a few miles at 55 and other cars are not zooming by you then you really can not tell that much difference.

Now, there is no point kidding ourselves, it is going to take longer to get where you have to go. But most of us would probably never be satisfied with anything less than instant transportation anyway. I don't know of many people who like to get in a car and drive all day. We would all much prefer to just push a button and arrive at our destination

In case you are interested this is the fifth time statewide maximum speed limits have been changed since the Texas Highway Department was established in 1917. In that year, the maximum permissible speed was a blazing 25 m.p.h. The speed limit went to 35 in 1923, to 45 in 1928, to 60 in 1941 and to 70 in 1963.

Orlin Brewer, writing in his column "Town Crier" in the Vernon Daily Record, has come up with a story that will really bug you when you are wondering if you are going to have enough gasoline to get to all of the places you need to be. Parts of his column follow:

If you happened to be at Torrance, Calif., with that late model automobile you're driving, you could drive to a small machine shop frequented by race car drivers and have all your current smog devices removed and a simple $50 carburetor installed.

As you drove away, you would have a car that meets the 1975 auto emission standards-you wouldn't be producing any smog at all. And in addition, you'd double if not triple the miles per gallon you get from a gallon of gasoline.

The only problem is that the carburetor is illegal in California, and it probably also wouldn't pass inspection in Texas when you get your safety sticker.

There is nothing wrong with the device. It is not dangerous. It is

All three places on the ballot are for two year terms

During the session, the council was also briefed on a juvenile problem facing all of the law enforcement agencies in Jones County by Chief of Police Ed Wheat. Chief Wheat told the council members that because of the incapacity of Jones County Attorney A. J. Smith there is a backlog of juvenile cases in the county. Smith has been in poor health for some time and has not been able to prepare cases to appear before the county's juvenile judge, Leon Thurman

Chief Wheat told the council that the city had 42 juvenile cases last year and that for the most part no action had been taken on any of them. He said that this was up from a total of 28 the previous year.

FIFTY YEARS AGO (January 18, 1924)

The Jones County Farm Bureau met in regular session in Hamlin vesterday. The attendance was good and all parts of the county were represented. The meeting was full of pep and the discussions were lively. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. F. Patterson, Hawley, president; W. C. Church, Merkel, vice president; Clyde Daniel, secretary. County Directors elected were: Precinct 1-J. W. Jenkins; R. H. Gifford, Lueders; R. D. Lumpass, Hawley; and R. A. Reagan, Merkel. Rev. Hugo B. Hatterias, Avoca and O. J. Stitt, Hamlin, will be attending the State meeting in Anson, Friday, Jan. 21, to hear a financial report of the secretary.

Two good road elections were ordered for portions of Jones County, Monday by the Commissioners Court. The first election ordered is the Petition of Anson vicinity for a road east and west through the county on a designated highway and the bond issue called for is $200,000. The other election was result of a petition from the north part of the county calling for the improvement of approximately 150 miles of roads. The amount asked for in the election is $600,000.

TWENTY YEARS AGO (January 22, 1954)

After several days of browning as a result of the freezes that visited the Hamlin area wheat and oat fields, the young grains have greened anew this week to further bolster the hopes of grain men for a good crop this year. Most of the grain of the section, which got off to a good start in the fall after early fall rains, had been on the ailing list for several weeks due to a lack of winter moisture.

With nine of the 12 churches of Hamlin participating in the new feature of The Herald giving attendances at Sunday Schools, the week's tabulations reflect increased attendance over that of a year ago. Despite the coldest weather of the vear last Sunday, 859 braved the elements to attend the various Sunday schools. This was only a drop of 23 from the previous Sunday.

Installation of new dual parking meters and parallel parking systems along South Central Avenue from Lake Drive south to the Santa Fe Railway in the Hamlin business section is well underway this week.

Members of the Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association have agreed to sponsor the Mother's March of Dimes porch light campaign of the annual fund drive this year. This portion of the 1954 campaign will be climaxed on Jan. 29 when solicitors will make houseto-house calls to collect donations at homes on which porch lights are burning.

TEN YEARS AGO (January 23, 1964)

Seven grand champions and seven reserve champion honors were earned by Hamlin boys in the Jones County Livestock Show held in Anson Saturday.

The Hamlin High School Stage Band has been invited to play as official stage band for the March of Dimes telerama on KPAR-TV this Saturday. The band played earlier this year for the amateur shows in Abilene. A flute and two French horns have been added to the band recently.

Jones County Commissioners Court voted last week to accept bids on a billing machine for use in the Tax Collectors office. Bids on the equipment will be opened by the court on Jan. 31.

The Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church will participate in the District Festival to be held in the Southside Baptist Church in Abilene, Sunday at 2:30 p.m. The choir members and eight to 10 adults also plan to go to Waco March 13-14 for the State Clinic to be held on the Baylor University Campus.

admitted by the only nine laboratories in the nation which test for smog that it is totally effective. And it is a lot cheaper than the hangon devices currently peddled by the auto industry and required by law.

The carburetor came to national attention when a University of California student of Davis, Calif., entered a national contest among engineering students to develop a smog-free car. The student, a racing bug, traveled to Torrance and had what is called the "Kendig Variable Venturi Carburetor" installed on his car, according to news stories mailed this column from California.

His ancient full-size Mercury won top honors in the national event for being the closest to a smog-free car. Not only that, the student found he'd not only met the 1975 standards, but he'd also increased his mileagefrom 12 miles per gallon to 30 miles per gallon.

However, after winning the contest, he had to remove the carburetor and reinstall his old gaseating carburetor and smog devices because California law requires specific smog devices, and if you don't have them you'll get busted, even if you're not polluting.

The carburetor, invented by Willard Z. Kendig, is a simple

It delivers a precise amount of fuel to the engine, he says, has automatic compensation for altitude and eliminates the need for a choke, acclerator pump, multiple circuits, needle valves and jets. And it never stalls, achieving constant acceleration from idle to full throttle without hesitation.

The company won't sell the device to ordinary citizens since it is against the law in California.

But more importantly, Company President Haig Marshlian, believes that his device is being "closed out" by what he calls the big four automobile manufacturers, which he suggests want to zap the public for $300 to $1500 for their proposed systems.

Meanwhile boxes and crates of the Kendig carburetors stand against the wall in Torrance, Calif., waiting to solve your smog and gasoline mileage problems.

In the meantime, we're talking about gasoline rationing on a nationwide basis. We are also driving 55 miles per hour to save less gasoline than the Kendig carburetor would save.

The Carpenter's FRIEND

To build . . . one must have plans, and plans give exact measurements. The carpenter who makes careful measurements finds that the work is made easier. Careful measuring prevents waste . . . waste of time and materials. Therefore the measuring device is truly a friend to the carpenter.

The church wants to be your friend, and help you to a easier and better way of life. The Bible clearly gives us a way to measure life. Through many centuries man has found no better rules than those given in the Bible.

Attend church and receive the friendly welcome that awaits you.

Philosopher Answers Survey Claiming People Dissatisfied With Paper

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One defends newspapers this week, we

Dear editor:

According to a nationwide survey I read about in a newspaper last night, "people generally aren't satisfied with the way newspapers are run." They said papers sometimes slant the news, are sometimes inaccurate, irresponsible and newspaper nobody criticizes broaden their inquiry. For and I'll show you a newspaper nobody reads.

I've always thought that criticizing a newspaper was half the fun of subscribing, like buying a ticket to a football game is a license to lambast the coach if he loses. No where in the Constitution does it say you can't laugh at a Congressman just because you voted for him.

Sure, most newspaper editors are biased, biased in favor of their own community, and sometimes they leave out the truth, which is better than having to leave town. Most people want the truth published about others, not themselves.

But I got to thinking about that survey. If the people who conducted it have any money left over they ought to example, how many people are dissatisfied with the way their church is run, their grocery store, their bank, their city government, their radio or television stations, their schools, their universities? Why they might even find out some people are dissatisfied with the way surveys are run.

But they shouldn't go too far. For example, I don't want them conducting a survey to find out how many people like my letters to The Herald every week, and if they go ahead and do it anyway I hope you'll avoid the risk of slanting the news and refuse to print it.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

What Kind of Oil You Talking About?

(Editor's note: The following story is taken from the Texas Good Roads Association's January Newsletter. It helps explain the price of oil as used in the various news stories concerning the current energy crisis.)

The question arises of how much a barrel of oil costs on today's "crisis" market. It depends...

Is it "new oil" or "old oil"? Or "released" oil? "stripper" oil? "foreign" oil?

"Foreign oil" is theoretically hard to come by. The Arab nations have it under embargo. There is some slippage, however; as a matter of fact, American foreign oil imports in December 1972 were 5.1 million barrels per day...In December 1973 they were 6.2 million bpd.

The Arabs raised the price of their oil recently, to a wellpublicized "posted price" of $11.65 per barrel. That doesn't mean we'd have to pay that much for Persian Gulf oil, if we could get it.

"Posted price" is an artificial figure the oil-producting nations use to figure their taxes on the actual producers-mostly American companies. This production "tax" amounts to about 60 cents a barrel per dollar of "posted price." The real meaning of the "posted price" increase is that western producers now have to pay the Arabs $7 a barrel instead of

$3.05. To the owner's share would have to be added:

Production costs-12 to 20 cents per barrel.

Shipping costs—$1.30 to $1.50 per barrel.

Profit and overhead-50 to 70 cents per barrel. That makes the total price of a barrel of Persian Gulf crude, laid down in an American port, about $9.30...or a little over 22 cents per gallon (an oil barrel being 42 gallons). This is, of course, before refining the crude into usable fuel, distributing it to consumers, That's 'Foreign Oil'; domestic costs vary according to the status of production source, price controls.

Probably 75 percent of American production is "old oil." That means it was produced from wells caught under May 15 price-control regulations (plus $1.35 increase that has been allowed since then). "Old" oil has to sell for around $5 per barrel.

If an oil man discovers a new field, or spurs production from an existing field, that "new oil" is free of price controls. It is now pushing $8 per barrel.

Each time a barrel of "new oil" is marketed, the seller gets a bonus: a barrel of "old oil" is released from price controls and can be sold for $8. That's "released oil."

The bill Congress passed authorizing construction of the Alaskan pipe line contained a provision removing "stripper wells" from price controls. A stripper well is defined as one producting 10 barrels or less per day. Stripper production has long been given special treatment; so, for that matter, has new production. About 25 percent of domestic oil production winds up free of price ceilings and eligible for a "natural price" of $8 per barrel. So-how much is a barrel of

-If it's "old oil," it may be $5 per barrel.

-If it's "new" or "stripper oil," it could be $8 per barrel. -If it's that "cheap" foreign oil, it would cost you $9.30 per barrel, until the Arabs get around to kicking up the price again.

American production was down in December-9 million barrels per day, as compared to a 9.5 million rate a year earlier. It's obvious the production rate will rise when prices go up to make it profitable to drill new fields or increase the flow in old

There are vast amounts of oil underground in the United States that was not worth extracting at $4 or so per barrelbut $8 is a different consideration. For example, steam injection might revive a played-out field-at a cost too much to bear with $4 oil but profitable at $8. The same goes for shale-oil production or the process of turning coal into gas with impurities eliminated. Expensive offshore drilling might make money with oil at $8.

The $8 ceiling is not the limit, of course. The Arabs conceivably could push higher-but most economists seem to think probably not. The $8 figure is believed to be sort of "natural" cutoff point for fossil fuels; then something else takes over. Just what is the question. It might take years to develop a cost us about 19 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Is Lone Star doing everything it can to hold down costs?

Recently we paid more than 85 cents for major new supplies. And the price is still rising.

Costs like these are the price Lone Star must pay for your continuing natural gas supplies. It's important that you understand our need for adequate rates so we can continue to deliver clean gas energy to your home for winters to come.

We're doing everything possible to hold down controllable costs. But even with gradual rate increases, natural gas from Lone Star will still be your most economical and efficient nonpolluting fuel.

Political Activity In Jones County Warming Up With Several Races

One of the hottest political years in some time is shaping up in Jones County this year with at least three contested races. Filing deadline is Feb.

Three candidates have filed for county judge, two for county clerk and two for district clerk.

Incumbent Leon Thurman. who has held the office of county judge for three terms, announced this past week. Dave Reves, who served the county as sheriff for a number of years, announced the week before.

Roy Lane, an Anson motel operator, was the first to file for that office.

Roy Thorn, the present county clerk, is being opposed by Don Rose of Stamford.

W. L. (Poochey) Mc-Donald, the district clerk, is being contested by Mrs. Glyn Lovvorn of Stamford.

The race for the senate seat in District 30, which is being vacated by Jack Hightower, is being sought by Charles Finnell of Holiday and Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls, This past week, Mary Virginia Kirchhoff of Plainview announced for the place. She is a Republican candidate.

Cong. Omar Burleson,

Commissioners Approve Employee Pay Raises

Jones County Commissioners handled a large amount of first of the year business, including granting of salary increases, in their meeting last Monday.

All elected officials will receive a 5 percent pay hike. while the increase for most employees will go up 10 percent. The chief deputy sheriff's new pay will be $550 a month while that of the $500. This is about a 13 percent hike.

With the increase, salary of most elected officials will become $735 a month. A tax collector receives $20 additional a month for handling automobile licenses, and the county judge is paid an additional sum for also serving as juvenile judge.

Pay for jurors in criminal cases will remain at $5 per day. For those called on special venires, the pay will be $5 if they serve but only $4 if they just report.

One of the first actions of the court was to vote to pay officials under the salary plan and not the fee system. This action must be taken every year.

Commissioners also voted to go on daylight saving time but for the next two or three months, to open the court house at 8:30 o'clock in the morning rather than the customary 8.

Members of the county grievance committee, the group which is set up by law to hear complaints of county employees, also was named. This is another statutory requirement. Judge Leon Thurman said thus far the committee has never met. The judge serves as chair-

Members of the committee are selected from the list of other deputies will become those who served on the grand jury the previous year. > The county will advertise for bids for liability insurance and will also seek bids for a loader for one of the commissioners.

Roy Thorn Announces As Candidate

Roy Thorn, candidate for County Clerk of Jones County, has authorized the Herald to issue the following formal statement of his candidacy:

"It has been my privilege to serve the people of Jones County for several years as your County Clerk; I have thoroughly enjoyed serving in this capacity. I would like to continue to serve you for another term.

"I feel the experience I and my associates have gained working in this office will enable us to continue the efficient and courteous service we have always sought to give.
